DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 82-87 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Yoo et al (2002/0150392 A1).

Regarding claims 82,84 and 86 , Yoo discloses an apparatus (Fig. 7) and method to generate additional information to guaranteeing seamless playback, the method comprising generating data stream information for each of two or more data streams (data streams for two packets) having packet data to which arrival time information of the respective packet data is added, the data stream information including seamless playback information , which indicates whether a corresponding data stream is to be seamlessly reproduced or seamless time control information to control an output time of the corresponding data stream to be seamlessly reproduced (Abstract, page 2, column 1, page 4, column 1).

Regarding claims 83,85 and 87 Yoo further teaches the transport streams are MPEG –TS transport streams (section 0004, section 0033).

It is noted that the expression "and/or" as being recited in claims can be interpreted as "or expression".

Applicants argue that "Thus, Yoo et al. sets forth a synchronization technique for a single data stream to correct for timing errors deriving from transmitting the "data packets" of the data stream through an IEEE1394 isochronous bus. Yoo et al. at least fails to disclose the claimed data stream information for each of two more "data streams", as claimed.

In response, it is noted that Yoo teaches timing information for at least two streams (two streams of the two packets) and using timing information for seamlessly playing back the two streams of two packets. Examiner considers data stream for each packet is a data stream recited in claims 82-87.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 3-7, 51-53 and 70-73 are allowed.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
